„From the Wild Sea“

Script and Director: Robin Petré

Hansen & Pedersen film production

This film is truly an imposition, in every respect. Sheer endless long shots, a slowness that seems to run counter to all our viewing habits, no commentary that would facilitate consumption. And with almost 80 minutes, it is truly not a short film.

This marine film, which takes place entirely on land, is also supposed to be an imposition. It shows in sober and at the same time poetic images the complex relationship of man to nature - as a danger and as a helper. Thanks to impressive camera work, we meet the animal protagonists at eye level. Their gaze does not let us go.

And so the imposition becomes a cinematic work of art, unadorned, painful, disturbing and fascinating.
