Laudatio

Best Story

„Kleine Meise ganz groß“

Script and Directors: Yann Sochaczewski, Marlen Hundertmark

Altayfilm, MDR, SWR, ARTE

Even in nature films, well-told stories need strong characters.

What good is the best story if the main character is no good? No, he has to be strong, courageous and clever.

But for him to inspire us, for us to tremble with him and rejoice at his successes, he has to be embedded in an exciting story. It accompanies our protagonist masterfully through all situations and seasons of life, raises completely new questions about a cuckoo's child, and even follows his relatives in the far north, in South Africa, and in the swamps of the southeastern United States.

But who is the hero of this story? A small, friendly songbird on our doorstep.
