Many documentations show the beauty of nature. Entries to the category ‘Green Report’ reveal the dark side of the relationship between humans and nature.

Sometimes those are problems that we do not even see even though they happen right in front of our eyes.

What is forbidden for small yachts is generously granted to giant cruise ships. While car exhaust fumes are strictly regulated by law ships’ funnels continue to emit putrid fumes. What is not challenged is not addressed. The journalists have produced an impressive report on the double standards of our society.
